GIANT WHEAT POOL SCHEME IS LAUNCHED

AUSTRALIAN ORGANIZER START ACTIVE WORK IN LONDON—WILL BRING PROPOSAL TO CANADA NEXT JUNE—TAKES IN WHOLE ENGLISH SPEAKING WORLD.

A news report from London, Eng., says a movement which may change the whole machinery of distribution and sale of the world's wheat was formally launched with the arrival in London of Hon. A. K. Thethowan, president of the Australian Farmers' Federation, who comes here to organize a gigantic voluntary pool for the whole English-speaking world.

Interviewed on his arrival by the Dominion News Mr. Trethowan said he will sail for Canada and the United States early in June. He has already been in communication with Mr. Crerar, former minister of agriculture and leader of the Progressive party, requesting him to arrange meetings with representatives of the wheat growers and elevator companies in connection with the proposed scheme. Mr. Trethowan explained that the voluntary wheat pool was already an accomplished fact in Australia.

"We want farmers to market their wheat with as much energy as they display in growing it," he said, and this is far from being the case at present. A bushel of wheat always makes the same number of loaves which have always worth the same to the consumer and which should therefore fetch a steady price to the farmer. The only individual who is hurt by the voluntary marketing pool is the speculator and if he drops out of the machinery the distribution between grower and country generally will be benefited. Under the scheme now in force in Australia we employ agents and generally proceed with minimum interference with the wheat grower and consumer.

Prairie Manufacturers Opposed to Extension Crows Nest Agreement

At the annual meetings of the Manufacturers' association for the prairie provinces, held in Winnipeg last week, a resolution was passed opposing the extension of the Crow's Nest agreement. In speaking to the resolution the retiring president said:

"Pressure is now being brought to bear to have the power granted to the railway commission to have the power extended for a further period, having the effect of continuing the high rates on grain being paid at the present time.

"To the suggestion we offer our most strenuous opposition. Apar from the quite obvious fact that farmers must have the chance to reduce the cost of marketing th'r grain, if they are to get a reasonable return for their work, we believe the time has come when contracts between governments and railways must be lived up to unequivocally."

Government Ownership Preserves Competition

That Canada has preserved competition under a plan of government ownership of railways which after three years' demonstration has proved thoroughly practicable, was asserted by D. B. Hanna, president of the Canadian National Railways. He explained that the national system competes with the Canadian Pacific Railway for the transportation business of the nation and that the object of government ownership in Canada was to insure adequate and efficient railway service.

Other Constitutionalities Now Being Questioned

The Supreme Court of Canada will have to give the final decision—with possibly a reference to the Privy Council—on the opinion of th' law officers respecting the constitutionality of a Dominion Act which, while saying that the judgment of the Supreme Court confirms that opinion, it will open interesting possibili s in regard to other Dominion legislation.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Financial Post has intimated that in certain legal and financial circles, the question of the constitutionality of the Lemieux Act is now being questioned. The question is asked whether, in seeking to exercise control over disputes in regard to wages, it is not infringing on Provincial rights and therefore "ultra vires."

DOMINION WILL HAVE OLD AGE PENSIONS

Ottawa.—Without debate, the house of commons adopted a motion by D. E. Fontaine (Liberal) Hull, that "in the opinion of this house, the federal government should consider the advisability of devising ways and means for the establishment of a system of old-age pensions in Canada."

TO MAKE A SPECIAL FEATURE OF SPORT

Since there are so many sporting organizations in town this season and since so many of our readers are interested in them, it is our intention to make a special feature of athletic sport news. In this we would ask the co-operation of the managers of the several organizations that keeping us posted on the doings of their respective clubs. All such information should be handed in as early as possible each week, so as to avoid disappointment.

Indians Victors In the Opening League Fixtures

The opening of the Medicine Hat-Redcliff Football League for the present season took place last evening with a game between the Indians and the Callies, the former being victorious by two goals to one. A nasty wind prevailed which had a marked effect on the play, each team playing the best with the wind in their favor, and scoring their goals with the elements behind them.

For the opening game it was a good one, and the two contesting teams played at a pace that showed that they were already in first class condition. One feature of the game was the large amount of combination that was displayed by the players on both sides, which goes to prove that association football is being developed along the lines of the old country game.

Space will not permit us to give a detailed report of the game, but President McLachlan of the local club, says that despite the cold and biting wind ing round that Redcliff will have a very strong team and are being heralded as likely winners the locals may not get it into their heads that the trophies are as good as won. We have a good team to be, but there are a few good teams playing last night, and don't forget that it took Redcliff about three years before they took the Shield. However, hearty co-operation among all connected with the club, and hearty endeavor both on and off the field of play, and we believe that we can come out victors.

One thing is sure. There is going to be some mighty good senior foo'ball this year.

There are rumors that the Redcliff team may be considerably strengthened in the near future. Let's hope the news is true.

Gordon Memorial Annual Bazaar

Don't fail to visit the Annual Spring Bazaar to be held in the basement of Gordon Memorial church, Saturday of this week. May endeavor to reduce the cost of marketing th' grain, if they are to get a reasonable return for their work, we believe the time has come when contracts between governments and railways must be lived up to unequivocally."

Bill to Amend Cold Storage Act

A bill to amend the cold storage act introduced by Senator Lougheed, who discussed in the senate at Ottawa. The object of the bill is to take such control by federal authorities as will prevent both the distribution of food unfit for consumption and hoarding for the purpose of preventing sales and increasing the price. Senator Bradbury had not completed his explanation of the bill when the hour arrived for the Senator Bradbury moved adjournment and will continue the debate.

Are Still Fighting Over in Ireland

Sharp fighting with machine guns rattling in all directions was in progress in Kilkenny yesterday, the Free State troops trying to recapture Ormond Castle, a hill held by the irregulars, who were in turn out of other places they had captured.

The castle is really a strong fortress on the banks of the river Nore, and is considered impregnable except by artillery. An 18 pounder gun was put into action against the castle from the Dail Eireann, advanced on the castle by different routes, followed by armored cars. They were fired upon by snipers in the streets and a fierce encounter ensued, a well directed fire being maintained against the castle from several angles.

CASH GRAIN PRICES (Winnipeg)

Wheat—No. 1 Nor., 1.47; No. 2 Nor. 1.42.

Oats—No. 2 C.W., .54; No. 3 C.W. .50; No. 1 Feed, .48 3-4

Spectators will get the money's worth at the senior football games this year. Judging by the class of play served up last night, soccer will come to the front this year by leaps and bounds.

Rail Grain Rate Less Than Water Rate From West

FROM WINNIPEG TO QUEBEC 6c BY RAIL—FORT WILLIAM TO MONTREAL 11c BY WATER—INFORMATION GAINED BY PROGRESSIVES FROM WEST ON A TRIP TO QUEBEC

Ottawa.—That visit of the western members of parliament to Quebec City over the week-end was no idle excursion. Some tangible results were obtained. Some information was brought back which if acted upon, might assist considerably in solving the farmers' whole marketing problem and the problem of how to make the government railways pay.

The Progressives, according to Thomas Sales (Saltcoats), who was a member of the party, were promised by C. A. J. S. Dennis, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, that company would provide sailings every two days out of the St. Lawrence ports to help in the movement of western grain to Europe. It was pointed out that the National Transcontinental Railway and the Grand Trunk Pacific carried wheat from Winnipeg to Quebec at six cents a bushel, without sustaining any loss in the transaction, as against 11 cents by lake steamers from Fort William to Montreal, and that even if the government railways charged the same as the lakes rate, it would be to the advantage of the western farmer and the nation as a whole to ship a greater amount of wheat to Quebec by rail.

With a more frequent sailing of steamers from that and other eastern Canadian ports and an increased elevator capacity, the St. Lawrence, with the completed National Transcontinental would help materially to distribute the export of wheat over a much larger portion of the 12 months, give more traffic to the government roads and serve to add stability to the wheat price received by the farmer.

Holding Meetings For Instructions Re Grasshoppers

P. H. Wedderburn, government inspector for this district to look after the organization in connection with combatting the grasshoppers, has been busy for the past week in the west end of the district, where the organization has been completed.

Next week Mr. Wedderburn will visit the district north of Suffield, and will hold meetings at Tide Lake, Bingville, Bronson, New Holland, and other locals in that neighborhood.

Mr. Wedderburn reports that he is receiving encouraging assurances that all are showing a keen interest in the movement.

Farewell Evening For Mr. and Mrs. Harper

A number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Harper met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. R. Stoner last Friday evening as a farewell gathering for this popular couple, who left Redcliff last Sunday.

The visitors took possession of the house, and after clearing the rooms of all unnecessary furniture, proceeded to pass the time by indulging in the art in which the guests of the evening have become so proficient.

A delightful evening was spent, at the conclusion of which all joined in singing Auld Lang Syne and wishing Mr. and Mrs. Harper happiness and prosperity in their new home.

FARM LABOR SCARCE IN CALGARY DISTRICT

So great has the demand for farm help become in this district that the Calgary employment bureau has been forced to transfer all orders received from farmers north of the city to the Edmonton office and confine its activities altogether to the district south of Calgary. This action was taken on Monday morning by the officials of the local bureau.

William Carmill, the local superintendent, said that the demand for men in this district for farm help has been greater than in Edmonton. By sending all orders which are received from north of Calgary to the Edmonton office it is believed that the situation here will be relieved to a large extent.—Calgary Herald.

TRAIN IS EQUIPPED WITH RADIO SERVICE

The first passenger train in the Dominion of Canada equipped with a radio apparatus left Winnipeg from the local yards of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, officials have announced. The radiograph has been installed in the livestock improvement train, which consists of seventeen cars scheduled to tour the province of Manitoba practically the whole month of May.

In taking the census in Canada in Canadians will register as Canadians.

GREAT DEMAND NOW FOR FARM LABOR

Lethbridge.—With seeding in progress over the whole of southern Alberta, the labor situation is causing some anxiety. The government employment bureau has applications on file for over 100 farm hands, and there are no men to fill the jobs that the wages offered are $40 and board. The Lethbridge northern irrigation works, the C.P. Irrigation system and the C. P.R. divisional officials here are all putting on men now, but there is an urgent demand for men rather than a demand for work now.

Rev. T. S. Paton Addressed Caledonians at The Hat

Rev. T. S. Paton, of Gordon Memorial church, was invited to address the Caledonian Society of Medicine Hat, at their meeting held here last Monday evening. In reporting the address the Medicine Hat News says:

A feature of the social was the address of Rev. T. S. Paton, Redcliff, who spoke on "Some Impressions of Scotland." Mr. Paton is a native of Scotland and revisited the "Land of Cakes" about two years ago. He is now at his visit and referred to the leading part taken by Scotchmen in all walks of life. He pointed out one of the admirable characteristics of the Scotch—their fearless courage—and dwelt on the spirit of the race. He mentioned that some of the world's great men poets and some of the giants in the field of literature could claim Scottish birth and referred especially to Burns, Scott, R. L. Stevenson, as pioneers. He contrasted the rugged picturesque scenery of Scotland with the prairies of Western Canada and pointed out each country had a beauty all its own.

Alluding to the question of education Mr. Paton drew attention to the splendid educational system of Scotland and the anxiety of the Scottish people to provide a good education for their children. The Scottish people, he said, took the view that the best heritage for the children was a good education and not money. He declared that one could not think of the name without remembering the important part it had played in the history of the British Empire, of the rugged determination of the men of Scotland whose character was solidly built on the foundation of respect for the church, the Sabbath Day and the Bible. The address was greatly enjoyed by all present and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speaker.

Pipe selection by A. Hosie, songs by A. Mills and J. Halliday, and a recitation by W. Kinnaird, rounded out that portion of the program, which was followed by dancing to the completion of a happy evening.

Organize Consortium For Distressed Europe

It is quite evident from latest reports from the Genoa conference that strenuous efforts are being made to improve conditions in Europe.

The proposed international consortium which the powers are organizing to assist distressed countries in Europe, is now taking definite shape, the British delegation to the economic conference announced. It has been strengthened, it was said, by the adhesion of a number of smaller European powers.

Lord Inverforth, chairman of the organizing committee which has been developing the project at Genoa, has obtained subscriptions from Canada, Czecho-Slovakia, Holland, Japan, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland, each of which will subscribe from 500,000 to 1,000,000 pounds. The powers which initiated the consortium were Britain, France, Belgium, Italy and Germany, each contributing 4,000,000 pounds, making a total capital of 20,000,000 pounds, but the inclusion of other states will reduce the proportion of the big powers to 3,000,000 pounds.

It has been arranged for each country to establish national branches of the consortium which will assist in the reconstruction of safe lines of countries on a business basis. The consortium figures in the preamble of the memorandum to be presented to Russia as one of the most important means whereby Russia can be restored.

In Chicago they have an organization which is known as the "English Speaking Union." Although only a few months old it has a membership of 500 in that city. The objects of the organization may be plainly guessed by its name.

A civil war of some kind has developed in China and appears to be growing to considerable proportions.

GOOD RECORD OF CANADIANS IN THE WAR

DURING LAST HUNDRED DAYS OF HOSTILITIES TOOK MUCH TERRITORY, ARMS AND PRISONERS

Ottawa—While military defence was under discussion in the house of commons, Brig. Gen. J. A. Clark, Conservative, Burrard, B.C., compared the work accomplished by the Canadian and United States forces in the last one hundred days of war, to show how Canadian forces had been benefited by actual war expenditure.

The United States, said the general, entered the war three years after Canada, and therefore was not able to make the showing Canada did. During the last one hundred days the United States had 650,000 men in action, and Canada 105,000. United States troops were engaged for 27 days and Canadian troops for 100 days. United States battle casualties numbered approximately 100,000, and Canadians approximately 45,000 during that period. United States troops captured 14,000 prisoners and Canadian troops 36,000. United States troops captured 486 munitions as compared with 623 by the Canadians; 2,864 machine guns as compared with 2,842 by the Canadians; 177 trench mortars, as compared with 256. During the last 100 days United States troops freed 610 square miles and Canadian troops 5500 square miles. Americans advanced 24 miles, as compared with 86 miles advanced by Canadians.

Gen. Clark drew the comparison to show how Canadian forces had been benefitted by actual war experience.

Many Are Joining G. W. V. A. Club

Since it has been decided to take honorary members into the G.W.V.A. club, quite a number have signified their desire to join.

Blank application forms have been circulated and already quite a number have signed up and returned the forms to the secretary.

Those who have received forms are requested to fill them in and hand them to the secretary as soon as possible.

When the list is completed, arrangemen's will be made to receive all who have been accepted, into membership, and plans made for the opening of the club under the new rules.

Carr Red Flag in Hamilton Parade

Early Monday afternoon a number of unemployed paraded the streets of Hamilton, Ont., headed by women carrying red flags. The sight of the flags was a signal for the police to move and they went into the crowds. Mrs. Agnes Carr, who led them, but the drawn clubs of the police were cleared with such effect that a number of men were clubbed and four men and a woman were arrested. The red flags had on them bolshevik devices.

Wheat Board Means Millions to Farmers

"Millions of dollars more," would have been received by the Canadian farmer for his 1920 crop had the Canada wheat board been continued for an other year, according to advices given out by the man who was chairman of that board, appearing before the agriculture committee of the house of commons. Mr. Stewart was questioned at length by both eastern and western members of the committee. He believed that all the inter ats concerned had been very fairly trated by the board. Canadian flour consumers had benefitted by controlled flour prices.

GERMANY IS TO GET WARSHIPS FROM RUSSIA

London.—A dispatch to the London Times from Warsaw dated Saturday, says it is reported that a Russo-German military agreement was signed in Berlin on April 9. It provides that the Soviet government shall give Germany 20 warships and maintain a certain number of troops opposite the Polish frontier. Germany is to deliver Russia arms and munition and equipment and instructors for poison gas warfare and also wireless equipment.

DE VALERA REJECTS ALL THREE PROPOSALS

Judged from the outside, and no person on the outside can very well figure out what is going on on the inside in Ireland—De Valera is beaten and is trying to filibuster and blockade until the going is better. The Free State offered three proposals, each one involving self- determination of Ireland, and De Valera rejected them all.

According to experts it is estimated that from three to four and a half gallons of gasoline could be secured from every 1000 cubic feet of ore from the oil well south of Medicine Hat.

LARGE TANK AT GLASS PLANT SPRINGS LEAK

HOT MOLTEN GLASS RUNS OUT INTO BASEMENT—VERY LITTLE DAMAGE DONE TO BUILDING.—TANK ALREADY REPAIRED AND MACHINES RUNNING

Last Monday about midnight quite a commotion was caused at the Glass plant, when the tank in connection with the large bottle machine gave way and the molten glass ran out and into the basement.

As the plant is practically fireproof very little damage was done. Although the heat from the lavalike substance was intense, workmen soon had it under control. In all about forty tons of the substance ran out, and it was several hours before it cooled off sufficiently to allow repairs to the damaged part to be proceeded with.

As a result of the accident the machine in connection with this tank was closed down for a short time, but it was remarkable how soon everything was in operation again as though nothing had happened. Already the tank has been repaired and the machine is running again.

What Wheat Board Did For the Farmers

Ottawa.—The 1919-20 wheat board secured to the western wheat producers all the benefits that the farmers claimed for it, but would do so again. It reduced the "spread" between the "street" or wagon load lot price and the "track" or carload lot price of wheat. It obtained a better price in Liverpool than could otherwise have been secured. It enabled the farmers to sell their wheat more gradually and largely eliminated dumping. It cut down the difference between the price paid in October, November and December and the price paid in the nine succeeding months. A compulsory wheat board is essential to the western farmers' welfare, and a voluntary board would be inadequate and ineffective.

All these points were brought out forcibly at the two sittings of the agriculture committee in the questions answered by two "star" witnesses from the west. These were James Stewart, chairman of the 1919-1920 wheat board, president of the Maple Leaf Milling Company, a farmer "by proxy," and who is a grain dealer in Winnipeg, and C. Rice-Jones, general manager of the United Grain Growers Limited.

Changes Made In Oil Lease Regulations

Ottawa.—Changes in the regulations governing the issue of oil and gas permits and leases in the Northwest for the leasing of mineral rights rental must accompany the application for a permit at the rate of fifty cents an acre, the rental to be computed on one-half the area of the location. Another change grants an increase in the time limit in which it is necessary for the permittee to have a drilling outfit on his location. The previous regulation gave a two-year limit, the amendment changing this to four years.

The regulations, while placing the rental for the second, third, fourth and fifth years at the rate of $1.00 an acre, also provide for certain refunds and credits to the permittee carrying on with boring during these years.

Teachers' Glass Eye Explodes in School

Lethbridge.—A special despatch to the Herald from Warner says: "To have one's glass eye explode and knock one down was the peculiar and terrifying experience of Ronald Folsom, one of the teachers of the consolidated school staff here on Thursday afternoon. The theory has been propounded that there must have been an airhole or flaw in the pupil, that the wear of years had worn down the inner surface and the covering of the flaw had become so thin that the breaking point had be n reached, causing a piece or pieces of the glass to strike at and of the optic nerve or some other nerve, the shock causing the fall.

300 Miles on a Gallon of Gasoline

Three hundred miles by auto on a gallon of fuel costing five and one-half cents, that is the claim H. H. Elmer makes for an engine designed by himself and revealed to the directorate of the Iron and Steel Co., of which he is the manager, at its annual meeting. Internationally known engineering expe ts, including Othur West, chief engineer of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, have inspected Mr. Elmer's engine, and are said to have pronounced it hundreds of years ahead of the times.

The coming season will see a great deal of activity in the way of drilling in the Pouce Coupe oil field.

TO RETAIN GOOD HEALTH FOLLOW THIS ADVICE

Most important of all is proper attention to the bowels. Avoid constipation—its the health-killer of today. Harsh griping medicine is ruinous—beware of it. Best results follow a remedy like Dr. Hamilton's Pills which relieve costiveness promptly and tone the bowels so that exactination becomes a thing of the past. No distress or inconvenience attends the use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are famous for their mildness and efficiency. For headache, biliousness, indigestion and liver complaint, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are just what you need. Thousands maintain their health by regulating frequently with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c all dealers or The Catarrhozone Co., Montreal.

Grenadier Guards

Splendid Traditions of the Old Brigade Recalled by His Majesty

King George, in presenting the colors to the officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the Grenadier Guards, in London recently, spoke as follows:

"I rejoice to see once more the three regiments of the Old Brigade of Guards. More than two hundred and thirty years have passed since you first met together. Since then you have fought together, generally with victory and always with honor, in many fields in all parts of the world; and in none more frequently than in the familiar ground of Northern France and Flanders, which you quitted nearly three years ago, more than ever covered with glory, worthier than ever of your proud place at the head of the British Infantry.

"Two hundred and sixty-three years have passed since you first went into action at Dunkirk Dunes under command of my English Prince, yet, strangely enough, opposed to British troops. Many times since then you have returned to Northern France and the Low Countries under King William III., under Marlborough, under the Duke of Cumberland, under the Duke of York, under Sir Thomas Graham, under Wellington and finally under Lord French and Lord Haig. And these are only a few of your campaigns. Twice you fought in America, in the 17th and in the 18th centuries. In Spain you made yourselves felt under Sir John Moore and Wellington. In Africa you defended Tangiers for King Charles II. and helped to take Khartoum for Queen Victoria; and I have still omitted to mention the Crimea.

"When you sailed to France in 1914, no old Grenadier could help asking himself if the Grenadiers were still the men of Steenkirk, of the Schellenberg, of Fontenoy, Guildford Courthouse, Lincelles, Barrosa, Quatre Bras and Waterloo—still the men who, alone of Sir John Moore's retreating army, marched into Corunna in orderly column of route, ragged shoeless and filthy indeed, but with drums beating and the men keeping step.

Grenadiers, you have proved yourselves greater than your greatest tradition. If Moore had seen one of your Battalions withdrawn from the line in November, 1914, a mere handful of one officer and something over eighty men, and watched them forthwith reform my own company out of that handful and do an hour's steady drill, then he would have exclaimed as he said outside Corunna in 1809, "Those must be the Guards." Many many times were your Battalions, one and all, reduced to mere handfuls during the late war. Once, indeed—I speak of the band of heroes of your 4th Battalion under Captain Pryce—not one man was left. He and his little remnant of fourteen men at the last sallied forth alone to the attack of thousands, and proved by their death that there was one thing which the Germans could not kill—the Grenadier spirit.

"I give you these colors as an emblem of that spirit, to be maintained and to be heightened so long as the Grenadier Guards shall live."

The Price of Success

Any Man Can Succeed Who Is Willing To Stick To It

You want success, but are you willing to pay the price for it?

How much discouragement can you stand?

How much bruising can you take?

How long can you hang on in the face of obstacles?

Have you the courage to try to do what others have failed to do?

Have you the nerve to attempt things that the average man would never dream of tackling?

Have you the persistence to keep on trying after repeated failures?

Can you go up against scepticism, ridicule and opposition without flinching?

Can you keep your mind steadily on the single object you are pursuing, resisting all temptations to divide your attention?

Have you the patience to plan all the work you attempt; the energy to wade through masses of detail; the accuracy to overlook no point, however small, in planning or executing?

Are you strong on the finish as well as quick at the start?

Success is sold in the open market. You can buy it. Any man can buy it who is willing to pay the price.—The Efficiency Magazine.

Sunken Vessels Containing Millions May be Raised

Another bid for the millions lying on the bed of the ocean is indicated by a newspaper advertisement.

A salvage engineer states that he has secured exclusive information of the location in international waters of a torpedoed vessel containing £2,000,000 of bullion, which could be salved in three weeks.

Speculative as such an undertaking appears, the fact remains that in four years the now defunct Admiralty Salvage Department raised 440 important vessels and recovered property to the value of £50,000,000.

There are over 2,000 British merchant vessels, sunk by the enemy whose positions have been charted. Nearly 2,000,000 of tonnage is within workable depth.

A naval expert declares that the Admiralty have charted all sunken ships and know exactly what each contains.

Boys' and Girls' Clubs

Saskatchewan Rural Education Association is Active

The Saskatchewan Rural Education Association, of which there are now 175 branches in active operation, continues to be the most efficient organization to carry the school exhibition and Boys' and Girls' Clubs. These activities are now recognized as the most important departments of the Rural Education Association. The Saskatchewan Livestock Associations have instituted a new feature this year in connection with their annual meetings in holding a Boys' and Girls' Stock Judging Contest covering the judging of all classes of livestock. The No. 1 team from Indian Head captured the grand aggregate silver shield presented by the Bank of Montreal. In addition each boy received a gold medal.

Retail Business in Soviet Russia

Retail business in certain lines is increasing like wildfire all over Russia. In Moscow alone in one month leases were granted by the city to 285 new concerns, mostly bakeries and meat shops. The average annual tax for rent for such shops is about 1,000,000 a day. As the daily sales amount to 20,000,000 to 40,000,000 the tax is being paid.

By making your purchases from your home merchant you are contributing direct to the prosperity of the community in which you live.

Pantomime has held sway at the Drury Lane theatre in London for the past 40 years.

Fitting Poultry for Sale

How the Birds Should be Fed if Intended for the Table

No poultry intended for the table should be marketed without being fleshed. The easiest way to do this is by crate feeding. Cockerels especially should be crate fed before marketing. Pullets and hens are also improved for eating by the same process. Two weeks crating will do for them but another week or two of such dieting will benefit cockerels. Before putting the birds in the crate, dry sulphur or some kind of lice powder should be thoroughly sifted into the feathers, and repeated once or twice during the feeding, to prevent or control lice. The Dominion Poultry Husbandman in his Bulletin No. 83, "Preparing Poultry Produce for Market," obtainable at the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, describes minutely the methods that should be followed in crate feeding. Medium-sized birds belong to the general purpose breeds give best results in the crate. Leghorns make good broilers, but poor roasters, and are not advantageous for crate feeding. Experiments have shown that Barred Plymouth Rocks do infinitely better. Birds of the general-purpose breeds do best if they are put into the crate weighing less than five pounds or before they are five months old. Strong constitution is essential. A lively bird generally answers this requirement. Scanty feeding is advisable at first. Cleanliness is a necessity, so too is milk, and all feed should be ground, no whole grain being given. The appetite of the birds should be considered. Fine ground oats, corn and buckwheat are all good. Shorts and middlings are all right as a small part of the ration. Bran is too laxative. Beef tallow is sometimes fed during the last four or five days, but its virtue is doubtful. Cooked foods as a rule should not be fed.

Hints for Western Farmers

Seasonable Suggestions for Cultivators of the Soil of the Prairie Provinces

The Experimental Farms Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, publishes three times a year a little leaflet entitled "Seasonable Hints" the prairie edition of which for March, April, May and June has just been issued. As the director says in his introduction, "To obtain good crops and get the best financial results, the farmer must study, and must apply the best of his study to such problems as soil fertility, its conservation and increase, to soil moisture and its control, to cultural methods suitable and productive varieties, and to all lines of industry in which his interest lies." In this number of "Seasonable Hints," which is sent free by the Publications Branch of the department to all who apply for it, articles are given of particular value at this time of the year to farmers in the western provinces. Among them is one dealing with the successful treatment of mares and foals. Another is on the identification of cattle, sheep and swine by means of ear tags, punches, tattooing, etc. Others treat of feeding hogs at a profit, of the incubation and brooding of fowl, of frost records on the prairies, of the summerfallow, of Durine wheat in the prairie provinces, of the quantity of sunflowers necessary to fill a silo, of the getting of successful catches of grass in dry districts, of tree planting with special reference to windbreaks and hedges, of variety in the vegetable garden, and of the eradication of the buffalo bur, also known as the sand bur and prickly night-shade. As all these articles are written by the highest authorities in connection with the Experimental Farms, and are the outcome of actual experience, tests and experiments in the west, their value and importance will be readily appreciated.

Extracts From a Modern Will

Somewhat Entangled Legacies that Were Left Behind

"To my beloved wife I leave my house with its first and second mortgages.

"To my beloved son I leave my automobile and the privilege of making the rest of the easy payments.

"To my daughter I give and bequeath my player piano, on which there is only a matter of $220 to pay.

"To my old friend Jones I leave my phonograph and cabinet, in which I have $15 equity, he to assume the contract.

"To my friend Smith I leave my sets of Dickens, Balzac and the Bug lovers' Nature Liberary, amounting all in all to a trifling, on his part, expense of $6 a month until paid."

The Kidneys

The office man and the outdoor worker suffer alike from derangements of the kidneys.

Backaches and headaches are among the symptoms. In some cases Bright's disease soon develops, others suffer from high blood pressure until hardening of the arteries sets in.

In order to forestall painful and fatal diseases prompt action should be taken at the first sign of trouble.

Mr. A. D. MacKinnon, Kirkwood, Inverness county, N.S., writes:

"I can highly recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to all suffering from weak kidneys. I suffered from kidney disease for a long time. I may also say that for three years I was nearly always troubled with headaches, and no treatment seemed to do more than afford temporary relief. I was finally told of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after using a few boxes was completely relieved. I have also used Dr. Chase's Ointment with the best results, and never fail to recommend these wonderful remedies."

To Aid Refugees

Great Britain Will Give Ten Millions To Transfer Russians

Plans for taking Russian refugees from Constantinople and elsewhere to Southern European states have been approved by the council of the League of Nations. It has decided also to have the task proceed under the supervision of Dr. Fridtjor Nansen who is high commissioner of the international committee for Russian relief. The various countries will be asked by the council to help the transfer of refugees by issuing free identification papers and free visas to them. Great Britain is to give £10,000 toward the evacuation of Russians from Egypt, Cyprus and Malta.

JOSEPH SIAUD RECOMMENDS THE DODD'S MEDICINES

Duck Lake, Sask.—(Special).—Joseph Siaud, a well-known resident here is a firm believer in the Dodd's Remedies.

"I believe I have the right to be," Mr. Siaud says. "For I have given them a thorough trial."

"I have used 44 boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and 46 boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and they have done me a lot of good. I don't feel any sore from my kidneys now even when the weather changes.

"To anyone suffering from Kidney disease or Dyspepsia I recommend the Dodd's Remedies. Give them a trial before trying any other.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets give good digestion. Dodd's Kidney Pills make pure blood. With good digestion and pure blood good health is assured.

Ask your neighbors about the Dodd's Remedies.

Importance Of The Automobile

The 429,000 automobiles in Canada covered a road mileage in 1920 which exceeded 1,680,000,000 and registered a passenger mileage of not less than 6,920,000,000. The steam and electric railroads of the Dominion combined carried but 629,121,000, according to S. L. Squire of the Canadian Good Roads Association. The number of passengers carried is 252,000,000 annually.

Pains in Back, Limbs and Side Yield to "Nerviline"

If you have failed to secure relief from other remedies, rub on lots of good old "Nerviline;" the strongest, most penetrating pain relief on the market. Nerviline acts quickly on small pains and is the surest to drive out the big ones. It's because every drop of Nerviline rubs in because it has the ability to sink in deeply that it drives away pain that ordinary oily Liniments won't touch. Large 35c bottles at all dealers.

The general revenue of the department was $1,698,349.39 for the year, a gain of $69,566.79 over 1920. The revenue from the amusement tax was $3,482.74 weekly. Corporations paid in taxes $339,339.72; the Motor Vehicle Act brought in $718,531.50; the Mine Owners Act, $275,928.54; Coal Mines Act, $6,016.94; the Theatres Act, $22,592.50; the Railway Mileage Act, $110,900; the companies ordinance, $27,346; the Act respecting auctioneers and peddlers, $8,750, with other items comprising the balance. The number of auto licenses sold almost touched the 400,000 mark, the actual number being 39,852, or an increase of 1,837 over 1920. The number of companies incorporated and registered reached 614 during the year with an aggregate capitalization of $31,993,601.13.

New Variety of Wheat

Oregon Man Evolves Wheat With Smut-Rust Resistance

Wheat, totally resistant to smut or rust, heretofore unknown to plant pathologists, has been evolved, as a result of experiments conducted at the Government Experimental Station in Oregon, by B. E. Stephens, superintendent, and his assistants. He has succeeded in producing four distinct varieties of wheat that are completely immune from smut, he said. From these, he has brought forth a number of hybrid varieties of great promise, by crossing his smut-resisting wheats with some of the most productive of the present varieties grown.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR THE SPRINGTIME

Do Not Use Harsh Purgatives—A Tonic is All You Need

Not sick—but not feeling quite well. That is the way most people feel in the spring. Easily tired, appetite fickle, sometimes headaches and a feeling of depression. Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily develop into more serious trouble.

Do not dose yourself with purgatives, as so many people do, in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you this is true. What you need in the spring is a tonic that will enrich the blood and build up the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do this speedily, safely and surely. Every dose of this medicine helps to enrich the blood which clears the skin, strengthens the appetite and makes tired, depressed men, women and children bright, active and strong. Miss S. L. McEachron, Nairn P.O., N.B., says: "I have been in the habit of taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the spring and they keep me in the best of health. I think it is entirely due to the use of these pills that I always have such good health."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

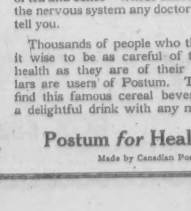
The Boy Who Started to Town With a Hundred Dollars



The advice they gave him for getting on in the world was simple and familiar enough: "Keep what you have, and build on it. Be careful what you do and it will grow into more."

It's a safe rule—with money or health, but a good many overlook the rule with health, until they have lost what they had. Then it's hard to get a new supply.

Postum is a splendid help in saving health from the very common losses through the drug elements of tea and coffee—whose effects on the nervous system any doctor can tell you.

Thousands of people who think it wise to be as careful of their health as they are of their dollars are users of Postum. They find this famous cereal beverage a delightful drink with any meal, and it's free from any disturbing element.

You can begin with Postum today, with an order to your grocer. The road to health is a good road for anybody to follow. "Save what you have, and build on it," is sound policy for everybody.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by all grocers.

What Do Office Boys Do?

Investigation Into Spare Time Works Leads to Interesting Results

Have you ever noticed the office boy whose duty it is to sit in the reception room of the larger offices and take in the cards of Mr. Smith or Mr. Jones to the Boss? Perhaps three or four callers come in every hour during the day. What doth the busy boy in the interval?

A self-appointed Committee on the Conservation of Energy and Promotion of Industry Among Office Boys was asked for a synopsis of the results of its investigations.

Of 1,748 office boys whose habits were subject to the investigation, it was determined:

Twelve per cent. read movie magazines and memorize the lives of movie stars.

Seventeen per cent. print their names in various types over seventy times daily.

Eleven per cent. watch the door from the hall, while they pitch pennies with other future directors and presidents.

Three per cent. collect postage stamps and spend their time sorting them.

Seven per cent. practice typing. "The large broom for kumpes over the lazy dob."

Four per cent. sleep.

Three per cent. sit and think.

Six per cent. sit.

The remaining boys are reported by the committee to be sufficiently clever in action so that even their bosses do not know what they do!

Wireless Lifesaving at Sea

Apparatus Developed in Britain Has Proved Its Usefulness

The wireless direction finder, which was first devised and developed in Great Britain, has proved of immense value in bringing help to disabled ships. The function of the apparatus is to enable the vessel which receives the S.O.S. signal to ascertain the direction from which the appeal comes. During recent storms in the Atlantic a steamer became practically a wreck, and for 36 hours the crew was huddled on deck without food. The captain sent out an S.O.S. message giving what he thought was his position, but as he was in error the first six snips which went to the rescue were unable to find him—one in fact searched unsuccessfully for 15 hours. Eventually a British vessel with a direction finding apparatus on board arrived on the scene just in time to save most of the crew. The vessel unfortunately foundered before all hands could be got on board the rescuing boat.

Stream in Alaska Trying to Reach Old Level

The largest Alaskan river emptying into the Arctic Ocean, the Colville, is gradually sliding down hill. It flows north parallel to an eastern range of hills and actually part way up on the slope of the hills, so that if the stream's western bank were cut, the water would abandon its present bed and flow down into the bottom of the valley. The western side of the river is deep, where the current is eating into the bank year after year, but the eastern side shallows out into a broad stony beach which shows by its great width how far the river has already travelled sideways. The explanation of the Colville's eccentric conduct is that after it formed its bed and valley, as a normally behaved river bed does, there was a later contortion of the earth's crust, lifting the stream bodily part way up the side of the slope. Ever since the river has been trying to get down to its old level again.

THE REDCLIFF REVIEW, THURSDAY, MAY 4, 1922.

ABOUT SUMMERFALLOW.

Among other things mentioned in the report of the Southern Alberta Survey Board, as submitted to the legislature, the principal was laid down that summerfallow should comprise at least half the acreage sown to crop in 1922. It further suggests that this summerfallow should be in good shape by June 15th.

Since the Survey Board has also taken up the question of credits with the financial interests, and since the banks and commercial houses will be watching developments in farming communities in districts under consideration by the Board, it would be well if all farmers concerned pay attention to this suggestion made by the Board.

In dealing with this phase of the question the Calgary Herald says: "The man who deliberately attempts to get by with slipshod farming operations will get little sympathy from creditors, but all reasonable consideration will be given to farmers who show by the amount of summerfallowing done in June that they are trying to make good and to pay their debts."

THE LOCUST PEST.

Experts, as well as men who have had experience with the grasshopper plagues in other countries, appear to have no doubt that we are due for such a plague in this district this season unless drastic efforts are made to destroy the pests in the early stages of development. They claim that this menace has been constantly on the increase in this country since 1918, and that last year practically the whole of Southern Alberta from the international boundary as far north as Olds, and east to the Saskatchewan boundary, was infested with billions of locusts and the eggs deposited were enormous.

They report that their investigations last year showed that in some districts in the west wheat yields were cut down about 10 bushels to the acre by grasshoppers which were not nearly so numerous as they will be this year if they ever get a good start.

According to these experts billions of locust eggs are now deposited along the roadside fence lines and in pasture fields. Late in May or early in June these eggs develop into little black jumping locusts. From th eday they are born until about 40 days later they will have but two objects in life—to eat and rest at night. They eat from sunrise to sunset.

Once a week they moult, and with each successive moulting their little wings get larger and larger, until after the fifth moulting they are ready to fly, and breed.

After attaining the full wing stage, they will eat, but they go further afield for it, and poisoning is not as effective as when they are in moulting stage.

It will be seen fro mthis that the time to get after them is in the early stages, and the results which may follow if proper attention is not given at the proper time.

The provincial government is doing its part in an ffort to combat the possibility of an outbreak of this pest this year. It, therefore, behooves every farmer, every farmers' organization, and every rural municipality, to render every possible assistance to the government officials in making the campaign against these pests a success.

LOOK AFTER THE TREES.

Now that the town has gone to considerable trouble in putting out a number of trees on our streets, every citizen should consider it his duty to see that they are given every care and attention possible to help bring them to maturity.

There are many ways in which the public can help in the matter. First, those who own cattle or horses should see that they are not allowed to run at large. If they tether out animals care should be taken to see they are tethered so that they cannot get to the trees. Children should also be warned not to play around them or break the branches. Those who have trees planted in front of their homes should take some interest in them. A little cultivation around them and a liberal application of water when watering your gardens and lawns will also help very much. Get the habit of giving them some attention.

Medicine Hat is considering forming a municipal golf links. If they decide to do so it might be a good idea if they would locate the links on this side of the river, as there are a number of golf enthusiasts in Redcliff who might patronize it and help make it a success.

Plans are now well under way for having a real live club in connection with the G.W.V.A. Since it has been decided to take honorary members into the club quite a number have signified their willingness to join and have made application to become members. A meeting of all such, as well as those interested in the movement, and G.W.V.A. members, is to be held in the club rooms tonight. As plans for the running of the club in future will be discussed at this meeting, and there should be a full turnout.

Now that the outdoor sport season is on and Redcliff is well to the front with senior and junior football and baseball clubs, it looks as though the public would have some entertainment in these lines this summer. Last year our senior football team won the league cup, and they are out this year after further honors. In this ambition they should receive the support and encouragement of the citizens. The juniors are also in a league and have started out with prospects which should land them at the top of the list if the players keep up their interest and they receive the support they should. Baseballers are also making good headway. The main thing now is to keep the interest up, and in this both the players and the people have their part to play.

Owners of stock in otwn and the country contiguous to the town should remember that the gardening season is now on. A stray animal can destroy in a few minutes what it has taken a gardener days or weeks to accomplish. This is most discouraging. Besides owners of stock are liable for damages.

Let Parliament Apply For Enabling Act To Establish Wheat Board

SO SAYS H. W. WOOD IN FOLLOWING ARTICLE, WHICH DEALS WITH MANY SIDES OF WHEAT BOARD—THINKS IT WOULD BE AN EASY WAY OF SETTLING MANY KNOTTY PROBLEMS

So far as constitutionality of the wheat board is concerned, it would be a simple procedure to petition the imperial parliament to grant an enabling act to permit operation of the board, and this could be done in time to secure a wheat board this year, says H. W. Wood, president of the United Farmers of Alberta, in an editorial which appears in the U.F.A., the official organ of the farmers. Mr. Wood says it is criminal to permit operation of an act which may be unconstitutional when the government is committing a criminal offense in allowing the Canada Grain act to remain in force. He points out that an opinion and not a decision has been given regarding the constitutionality of a wheat board, and he says after all even lawyers and judges often differ on opinions. He quotes from a past speech of Arthur Meighen in touching upon his attitude regarding federal authority on this question.

Mr. Wood's editorial in full is as follows:

"The conventions of the three prairie provinces and the Canadian Council of Agriculture asked for the re-establishment of the 1919 wheat board. It was asked for as a temporary measure to give some degree of relief to present agricultural distress. The government did not take the responsibility of deciding for or against the measure, but it was turned over to the law officers of the crown, who expressed the opinion that it was beyond the powers of parliament to re-establish the board.

Only an "Opinion"

"This was the opinion of the lawyers We knew all the time that the board's strict conformity to constitutional technicalities was questionable. The same can be said of many acts now in force, including the Canada Grain act. If the government had decided the case on its merits and given us the wheat board accordingly, the probabilities are that the temporary necessity would have been met before its constitutionality was questioned.

"It is a case of sacrificing the interests of the people and the welfare of the country to inflexible technicalities. Figuratively it is a case of using a pitchfork—a useful tool—to stab your neighbor. If it is a crime to permit the operation of a law which might be questioned on constitutional grounds the government is committing a criminal offence in permitting the Canada Grain act to continue in operation.

No "Decision" Made

"Besides there has been no decision but only an opinion as to the constitutionality of re-establishing the board. Lawyers, and even supreme court judges, frequently differ on such matters. The supreme court might render a decision different to the advice given to the government. The privy council in turn might differ with the supreme court. In the case of the grain inquiry board, the initial court decided that the board was ultra vires, while the supreme court decided differently.

"After all, most of these things in the final analysis are matters of opinion. The important question before us in this time of great agricultural distress is whether we are going to get relief in a practical way, or be bound hand and foot with the red tape of legal technicalities.

"Constitutions are or should be made to protect human rights and social wellbeing, but it is impossible to frame a fixed set of principles in detail that will cover all cases and be adequate to meet all emergencies. On the assumption that a constitution is fixed, unchangeable and inviolable, it is sometimes conveniently assumed that the interest of the people must be twisted, bent or broken to fit unyielding, cast iron, technical details that were never intended to serve so unholy a purpose.

"In the case in hand, if as much zeal were displayed in fearlessly meeting a situation in the most practical way as there has been on a pretense for a technical decision, it is probable that an enabling act of the imperial parliament could be obtained in ample time to permit the wheat board to function in the sale of the 1922 crop. In fact, it is safe to assume that any reasonable request for a special act that might be asked for by the Canadian parliament would be granted immediately by the imperial parliament as a matter of course, as that parliament is not disposed to stand in the way of any reforms desired by and in the best interests of the dominions. The essential autonomy of Canada would be respected. No general amendment of the British North American act would be called for in this instance, but merely a special enabling act of the imperial parliament to meet an emergency.

"That the opposition not only are not opposed to the idea of seeking enabling legislation from the imperial parliament, if such legislation is necessary to place the regulation of the grain trade under the control of the Dominion parliament, but would be willing to co-operate to that end, was made very clear by the Conservative leader, Mr. Meighen, in his address against reference to the supreme court, as in following quotation from his speech will plainly show:

"Let it be remembered that there has been expressed some doubt as to the power of this parliament in regard to the entire handling of the grain trade. We may be in some danger there even as we sit now. But the fact is this, the grain trade has become of such a character, it is so inter-provincial, it is so broadly Canadian, that whatever may be the constitution of this country, that trade must be under the control of legislation enacted by this parliament—under the control of federal authority. And if there is successful attack that goes to the root of our power in this matter, I for one would be prepared to support legislation which would address the imperial parliament in terms requesting an enabling amendment to our constitution."

"Mr. Meighen went on to make clear that he was not speaking either for or against the wheat board, but simply asking that it be dealt with on its merits.

"Why was this action not taken, not only in order to clear the way for the re-establishment of the wheat board, if in the opinion of parliament conditions would justify it, but also to remove the doubt in regard to the constitutionality of the Canada Grain act?

"Assuming that the agricultural committee should still decide that conditions justify it in asking for the re-establishment of the wheat board, it would seem that a practical way to proceed would be so to report to parliament. Then parliament could pass the necessary legislation, and in order to clear away all obstacles, petition the imperial parliament to pass an enabling act to bring this legislation into

Y.M.C. Team Wins First Baseball Game Of This Season

MET THE INDIANS, WHO GAVE THEM HARD RUN—SCORE WAS 5 TO 2 AT THE FINISH

By E. Millard.

The Y.M.C. won the first game of the season, defeating the Indians by the score of five to two last Saturday. The game was the best seen on the local diamond for many a season. The Indians fielded gamely till the last man was out, but were helpless before the excellent pitching of Barr and Guy Horne. Kenny Horne and Houver also deserve credit for their good pitching.

The game started promptly at six p.m., the Indians taking the field. Houver was in the box for the Indians and K. Horne on the receiving end. Brownlee, first man up for the Y.M.C., was fanned; Millard singled, advancing Brownlee. On a double steal Millard got nipped at second. Nelson also struck out, Brownlee and Nelson score on W. Horne's hit. Two runs, no errors.

The Indians also chalked up a run in the first, and there was no further scoring until the fourth inning, when both teams got another runner across the pan.

In the lucky seventh with two men on bases, W. Yates for the Y.M.C., cracked out a two-bagger, scoring two runs, and this put the game on ice. The Indians fought hard to the finish, but could not overcome the lead. The following were the line-up:

Indians—Gordon Horne, 2b; Houver, p; C. Blanchard, lf.; J. Horne, lf; K. Horne, c-p; Kirkpatrick, ss; C. Carey, 3b; L. Hicks, rf; W. Rutherford, cf.

Y.M.C.—Brownlee, 1b; Millard, 2b; Nelson, lf; Barr, p-lf; W. Horne, c; Bellantyne, 3b; Guy Horne, cf-p; J. Gray, ss; W. Yates, rf.

Senior Soccer Cup Tie Game Here on Wednesday Next

Redcliff is to have its first senior football game here on Wednesday evening of next week. On that occasion the Callies from Medicine Hat will provide the opposition in the cup competition. The game will be played on the old football grounds on First street, and no doubt will be called for 6.30 sharp. Now that Redcliff has its name engraved on and a've holders of one of the football cups, they stand that they are out to make a double event of it this season. This game should be a hummer, as the Medicine Hat teams always play a good game on the Redcliff pitch, and it is anticipated that the whole of Redcliff will be on hand to give the team encouraging his way.

Every effort should be made by the players to be on time. There is no fifteen minutes grace this year, and the evenings are none too long yet.

The game last night between the Indians and Callies was a strenuous one. On the run of the play the Callies were unfortunate to be on the losing end of the score. A draw would have been a fitting result.

"Should this petition be granted, the wheat board can begin operations in time to handle the crop of 1922. Should the petition be refused, we will then know definitely that we cannot hope to re-establish the wheat board thru federal legislation, and that the only authority through which a board can be established is that of the provincial legislatures."

First Junior League Football Game to Be Played on Friday

JUNIOR COMPETITION WILL GET UNDER WAY WITH THE MOOSE OF MEDICINE HAT AS VISITORS —GREAT GAME EXPECTED

The first game in connection with the newly formed Junior Football League will be played here tomorrow (Friday) night, on the grounds on First street.

The Junior Moose of the Hat will be here tomorrow, and those who remember the brand of ball played by these teams in a recently friendly game will be prepared to witness a hard struggle for possession of the first points in the new competition. The game will start sharp at 6.30 and the Redcliff juniors will be represented by the following team:

Goal, T. Jones; backs, T. Rogers and D. Pickerin; half backs, J. Osgood, E. Womersley, J. Podesta; forwards, D. Kerr, W. Pickering, J. Kerr, H. Cann, A. Dutton. Reserves: W. Hurlbert, Jim Podesta.

All players are requested to be on the field at 6.20 sharp.

DIAMOND DOINGS

Barr and Guy Horne handed the Indians their first scalping.

Guy Horne, manager for the Y.M.C. handed in his ticket as manager, lack of support by the club fans being the reason. Hereafter the team will be known as the Dominion Glass Co. nine. They will also elect a manager.

The next game will be Saturday, May 6th, at 6 p.m., Dominion Glass nine and the Indians. There will be a few minor changes in both teams.

Geo. Moses and W. Rogers, from the Club, were at the game. Atta boy, George.

Mr. Raymond Windsel will be the official umpire. Ray has a very loud voice and should make a good umpire.

The umpire will have the right to use his watch and chase any player that disput s his decisions or uses profane language, to the showers. This will be a good thing for both players and spectators.

There will be an all-star team picked for the 24th of May to play a team from Medicine Hat. Mr. Frank Canty will pick the team.

The Indians are on the warpath and another good game is expected.

A. Ballantyne expects to have a new pair of cuff links.

Harry Chapman will be on the line-up for the Dominion Glass on Saturday. Harry must need a new tie.

There was also a heavy team on the grounds Saturday.

J. Horne, the Indians' first sacker should make a hit will his new ten dollar glove.

Brownlee stole home—after the game.

W. Bamforth was chasing cows in the outfield. There were no flies coming his way.

Joe Padousky was the umpire and handled the game very nicely.

Jerry Crow will be at the game with his radio to let the people know what they don't know.

SENIOR FOOTBALLERS GO TO HAT TOMORROW FOR LEAGUE GAME

The Redcliff senior football teamm go to Medicine Hat tomorrow (Friday) evening, to play a league game with the Vets. From all accounts there will be a good crowd of supporters accompany the team on this their first league game of the season. The line up of the Redcliff team will be picked from the following: Stratton, Jos. Mitchell, J. Learmonth, J. Lakey, D. Smith, A. Learmonth, McLuckie, McLennan, Maskell, W. Waters, J. Dutton, W. Watson, A. Osgood, and A. N. Other.

The Settlers Canada Wants

The figures of the recent census reinforces the fairly well recognized fact that one of Canada's needs is a larger population. With an area larger than that of the United States, with millions of the best agricultural lands in the world, and undeveloped natural resources of wealth beyond all human computation, this Dominion has a population comparable to that of little European countries like Belgium.

Reference has been made to this outstanding Canadian problem on more than one occasion in this column, and while it is not necessary to repeat facts and figures, nor dwell at any great length on all the undoubted advantages which a substantial increase in Canada's population would bring to every man, woman and child now in the country, it may be well to continue urging the necessity for the adoption of a far-seeing, businesslike and aggressive national policy designed to meet Canada's needs in this respect.

Recently two important speeches were delivered in Eastern Canada on this subject, and in both instances commonsense views were expressed and sound advice given. One such address was delivered by Sir Clifford Sifton before the Toronto Board of Trade, and it must be admitted that if there is any man in Canada qualified to speak on the subject of population, and the relation of immigration thereto, it is Sir Clifford Sifton. He has had practical experience in handling the problem, and, while mistakes may have been made under his administration, he certainly succeeded in obtaining results to a greater degree that any other man before or since his regime as Minister of the Interior.

Sir Clifford showed he had little sympathy with many of the pet theories which find acceptance in some quarters these days. There is, in his opinion, but one way to accomplish the desired results, and that is to go after stalwart agricultural settlers, bring them to Canada, and put them on the farms where they can make good. He is absolutely and unalterably opposed to bringing in immigrants by the million without reference to their ability to "make good" on the land. Half a million agricultural settlers of the right type are, in his opinion, worth ten million of other classes. Settlers on the land would establish homes here and would bring about a natural permanent increase in population. Settlers of other classes it brought in would inevitably find their way to the cities, and create new and difficult problems, or would drift to the United States.

The second address to which reference is made was by Professor C. R. Fay, of Toronto University, on the subject "Principles of a Sound Immigration Policy." Like Sir Clifford Sifton he strongly urged a policy of going after and getting settlers of the agricultural labor class. At the same time he argued that good agricultural laborers could be obtained in the Old Country from a wider class than that of the farmers and farm laborers, if they are given the necessary training. He held, therefore, that Canada's immigration policy should provide for the giving of such training, and in this connection instanced the success achieved in so many instances by soldier settlers under the Soldier Settlement Board. He advocated the extension of this policy for the direction of land settlement as a whole.

Professor Fay summed up modern conditions of successful settlement as requiring:

1. Land with reasonable marketing facilities.

2. The right kind of land for the settler and the right kind of crops for the land.

3. Sufficient capital; some settlers might be able to provide the whole for themselves, but assistance in the shape of loans would probably be required in most cases.

The first essential to holding good settlers on the land was the right policy of land settlements. The second was the reconstruction of rural life around various forms of co-operative enterprise. Co-operation means, he said, better business, better farming, and a better country life.

The old policy of bringing settlers into the country and then leaving them to shift for themselves will not do. They must be assisted in establishing themselves and taught as to the methods which make for success in this country. Furthermore, hand in hand with, or rather in advance of, the adoption of an aggressive policy to obtain this type of settlers, there must be action by the Federal Government to ensure to the people, now on the land and to those who will come, adequate markets and marketing facilities to the end that the results of their labor may yield a reasonable profit over costs of production and as a reward for the labor given and the capital invested.

Legends on Rocks at Vancouver

Carvings on Rocks Said to be at Least 2,100 Years Old

The peculiar carvings on the rocks along the shores of Sprout Lake and Great Central Lake, Vancouver Island, gave rise to a legend relative to the Indians who inhabited that part of the world. Scientific analysis and examination of these carvings now theh to be at least 2,000 years old. This fact inclines one to believe the Indian theory that mammoth creatures inhabited Vancouver Island in that remote period. No one knows, not even the Indian, how long ago it is since Chief Quatlat lived in the vicinity of Alberni. He was an old Indian chief, the first on the island, and some of the Indians think that he still exists in invisible form. Quatlat had a wonderful record of vanquishing the prehistoric monsters, which were like the dreadful creatures portrayed in the carvings.

Portraits of Saints Discovered in Rome

Expert Believes the Paintings Were Made from Life

What are believed to be contemporary portraits of St. Peter and St. Paul have been discovered in a hypogeum, or underground structure of the Roman epoch. The belief in their authenticity is shared by the well-known archaeologist, Prof. Lanitani.

The hypogeum was found in the course of excavations for a building on a large garage. It comprises a number of rooms and galleries, a crypt, and a Christian Church with marvellous frescoes of a very early date. The professor believes the portraits were painted from life.

Sunday in Japan

Advantages Not Fully Understood by Most of People

Tokio newspapers announce the imperial recognition of Sunday as a national day of rest throughout Japan, as the result of its influence which Christianity is exercising now in a non-Christian nation.

The Government has been for years officially committed to a partial recognition of the Sabbath. On that day imperial offices were closed, schools given a holiday, big banks did not open for business and many people ceased their labors.

The advantages of Sunday are not fully understood by most of the Japanese people. Christian preachers carefully train their followers that worship on the Sabbath is not work but the refreshing of body, soul and spirit.

Country laborers in Japan work long hours with no day of rest, while workers in cities usually keep one or two days out of each months.

This class now does not know what to do with Sunday. As a result, motion picture theatres have sprung up with great rapidity in all the small villages of the empire. These do a big business on Sunday, being the only way the masses know of using the God-given time.

SPRING WEATHER HARD ON BABY

The Canadian spring weather—one day mild and bright; the next raw and blustery is extremely hard on the baby. Conditions are such that the mother cannot take the little one out for the fresh air so much to be desired. If it is confined to the house which is so often over-heated and badly ventilated. He catches cold; his little stomach and bowels become disordered and the mother soon has a sick baby to look after. To prevent this an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets should be given. They regulate the stomach and bowels, thus preventing or banishing colds, simple fevers, colic or any other of the many minor ailments of childhood. Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

cases ended in death! So a recent Canadian investigation showed. There were not cases of infectious diseases—of consumption—of typhoid! They were cases where a person had sustained some slight injury—a cut, a burn, a wire-prick—and where the wound, being thought not serious enough for careful treatment, had been neglected. Blood-poisoning and death resulted.

The Prince and Education

Laying a Solid Foundation for Future Government

"Let us keep undimmed our love for learning, for hard work, for discipline and order, and for friendly co-operation." Thus spoke the Prince of Wales to the University youth of India. To understand the point of view of the youth of India, to know their aspirations, to let them have insight into the ideals of the British Empire is good work on the Prince's part. The Prince of Wales by adopting such a wise procedure and choosing his language so aptly is laying a solid foundation for future government. The youth of today become the manhood of tomorrow.—Montreal Gazette.

But Halifax Unemployed Censure Parliament for Neglect of Canadians

Commenting on the grounds of humanity "the subscription of $25,000,000 to relieve starving Russians," by the Dominion Government, and the recognition by the Government of its responsibility in the "save the Russian children campaign," the Halifax Unemployment Association passed a resolution expressing "severest censure" of the Parliament of Canada for the neglect of "Canadians who are starving mentally and morally as well as physically" in the midst of plenty in one of the richest domains of the whole world.

The resolution prayed the Government "to do something to "save Canadian children" and added that a loan of $500 or more to the distressed "is not only its primary duty, but the only logical step to take in a capitalistic world to maintain its citizenship."

A second resolution covered virtually the same ground with regard to the Nova Scotia Government.

The Advantages of Thrift

"If a man had put a hundred dollars in a savings bank twenty years ago," said the statistician after diner, "it would amount to over two hundred dollars now, and he could buy almost as much with it now as he could have got for the original hundred at the time he began to save."

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

The population of Greater Winnipeg is placed at 283,952, an increase of 1,034 over 1921, according to the 1922 city directory.

Provision is made in the Dominion estimates for an exhibition train of Canadian products to tour France on the same basis as the French exhibition train toured Canada last fall.

Exclusion of Oriental immigration from Canada is sought in a motion, notice of which has been given in the House by W. S. McQuarrie, Conservative, New Westminster.

Federal prohibition agents dumped 350,000 gallons of whiskey, wine and beer into the Chicago River, while several hundred persons gathered along the bank to watch the performance.

Chancellor Wirth told the German Reichstag that the demand of the Allied reparations commission for an additional tax levy of 60,000,000,000 marks transmitted to the German Government was absolutely impossible.

The Canadian Government has received $,314,000 from the British Government toward the cost of the Canadian army of occupation, but no further reparation payments have been received, Hon. A. B. Copp, secretary of state, informed the Commons.

England's Crops Smaller

Cultivated Land 781,000 Acres Less Than in 1918

A reduction of 781,909 acres in the cultivated land in England and Wales is shown by Ministry of Agriculture's statistics for 1921. The reduction is figured from the total of 12,299,000 acres in 1918 when the area was greatly increased owing to the food production campaign.

The total acreage sown to wheat in 1921 was 1,976,000 acres, or 101,000 over 1920.

New War Medal

King George Approves of Medals for Heroes of Allied Nations

King George has approved of the issue of a medal in silver and bronze to those persons of allied nationality who almost always at the risk of their lives, rendered assistance to British soldiers behind the enemy's lines. Some of these soldiers were prisoners of war actually in captivity, others were endeavoring to escape, and yet others, cut off by the German lines, were in hiding and seeking to rejoin their units. The list of awards comprises 123 silver medals and 573 bronze medals. In addition to these awards 28 honorary appointments have been made to the Order of the British Empire in exceptionally deserving cases, while specially prepared letters of thanks have been issued in upwards of 1,000 other instances. The medals will be distributed through the British embassies at Brussels and Paris in the near future.

House Shortage in England

A statement from the British War Office shows that the present house shortage is having a direct effect on the army, as well as on the civilian population in England. Many hundreds of ex-soldiers with families have been allowed to remain in the married men's quarters under the home command, thus depriving married soldiers of required accommodation, but the army council is now compelled to obtain possession of these quarters.

Brake Rods and Connecting Parts

A monthly inspection should be made of the brake rods and connecting pairs of your car. Clean off all the accumulated dirt and rust, so that they will act as freely and efficiently as possible. Apply a half-and-half solution of kerosene and lubricating oil, and the brakes will work easier and better.

Minard's Liniment for Coughs and Colds

JOSEPH DRAKE

"When I say that I weigh twenty-five pounds more than I did a short time ago it speaks volumes for the merit of Tanlac," said Jos. H. Drake, 430 Belmont Ave., Springfield, Mass.

"The first thing Tanlac did for me was to give me an appetite and tone up my stomach. It wasn't long before I was eating things I hadn't dared touch for years and anyone to see the hearty way I eat now would find it hard to believe that a few weeks ago I was dyspeptic and living on the lightest kind of diet.

"Another good thing Tanlac did for me was to drive the rheumatism almost entirely out of my system. In fact, I can truthfully say it has made me feel like a new man in every way. It certainly is a grand medicine."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

Germany's War Losses

Approximately One in Seven Killed in Battle, Statistician Finds

Forty-six men were killed and 109 were wounded on the German side during every hour the world war was raging, according to an estimate arrived at by General von Altrock, a statistician. This estimate was made from a study of official records.

Germany's losses totalled in dead 1,808,545 and in wounded 4,246,779. Men to the number of 13,000,000 were under arms during the course of the war, of whom about one in seven was killed in battle.

The German corps lost 63,000 men killed and 96,000 wounded. German soldier and civilian losses through death, caused directly or indirectly by the war, are estimated by General von Altrock, at 15,000,000.

Increase in Okanagan Orchards

There will be at least one thousand acres of new fruit planted in the West Okanagan Valley irrigation district this spring, according to figures compiled by representatives of nursery concerns who have been selling trees to residents and prospective orchardists of the Okanagan district.

NEWS FROM THE OTHER SIDE

Interesting Letter From Woman in South Africa

Johannesburg, South Africa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness and because I felt run down. I tried a lot of medicines before I tried yours. One day I was standing on my stoop when a boy came up to me and handed me one of your little books. I read the book and the next day my husband went to the chemist's and bought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken the medicine ever since and I feel quite strong and well now as I am on the sixth bottle. I have written to my sister and told her all about the wonders it has done for me, and I am quite willing for you to use my name as I can not thank you enough for what it has done for me."—Mrs. W. F. Rush, 126 6th Ave., Mayfair, Fordesburg, Johannesburg, South Africa.

It is this sort of praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, given by letter or verbally, one woman to another, that ought to commend this splendid medicine to you.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for women's ailments (in use nearly fifty years), and the fact that it has helped thousands of other women, should cause you to give it a trial now. It can be safely taken by any woman—young or old.

World Requires Every Bushel Of Grain To Tide Over Present Shortage

For years the farmers have been led to believe that the secret of prosperity was increased population, and when they had gained that purpose they were led to view their accumulated stock and told that the reason why they were not prosperous was because they had produced too much and they ought to curtail their efforts.

On the face of this advice it is difficult to know what to do. Considering the fact the world needs every bushel of grain and still there will be barely enough to tide us over until the next crop, American agriculture can never attain a prosperous state if it does not continue to be a surplus producing agriculture. In fact the security of our country lodges on this consideration. Every time the farmer is led to adopt a short sighted policy as to his business conduct, agriculture is deprived of so much vitality. The remedy does not lie in increasing production on one crop at the expense of another and then revising the process and rushing in the opposite direction.

The farmer should consider his business as a whole, and be long sighted enough to look ahead of the immediate conditions confronting him. The remedy lies in efficient farming, and that means, first upon production; because all income, all wages, are based upon production. Production must be stabilized as much as possible in the particular crops which the soil and locality will produce most efficiently. Having produced his crop, the farmer must then take the proper steps to market and distribute his products efficiently, for marketing and distributing are as much a part of efficient production as the actual planting of the seed and growing the crop.

The fact then seems to remain that the surest and safest course for the farmer to follow is to continue business as heretofore, and take proper steps all along the line to insure efficient production. Every proper encouragement should be given to the co-operative marketing programmes; they have proven very helpful to the co-operating communities of Europe.

Past experience has taught the farmer to steer clear of the theorists and the amateur economists who are perfectly willing to test their theories on the farmers in regard to curtailing production. This is evidenced in the fact that prices on most all farm products have been going upward, continuously for the past few months.

In considering these facts, it would then seem that the trouble has been in lack of co-operation and in financial arrangements between countries, and the fact that prices on all farm production is steadily raising, would indicate that better co-operative arrangements are being gradually affected. All these things then point to the fact that we have not been guilty of over production. Whatever may happen in the near future, you may rest assured that the farms organized and conducted on the highest plane are going to show the most profit to owners.

Take a leaf from the experience of successful business men. It offers the safest course, and is the first thing the business man does when threatened with new and serious difficulties, is to clean all the dead and down timber off his shelves. The first "dead timber" the farmer has is his waste and wasted acres.

Having the producing side efficiently in hand, then comes the marketing and distributing side of the problem. One cannot be efficient without the other.

Furthest North Red Cross Station

1,000 to 1,500 settlers are to be found away up in the remote parts of Saskatchewan, north of the 55th parallel, between Lac Ile a La Crosse and Lac La Rouge. Medical facilities are negligible and the Canadian Red Cross Society is now contemplating the establishment of a post in the district. If plans go through it will be the farthest north station of the society.

Learning from the Past

The Zeppelin is a Thing of Evil Repute

Does Washington learn nothing from the past? Doesn't it realize that on its record the dirigible is clumsy, unreliable, tricky and extravagant? Doesn't it see that as an instrument of the army or the navy the dirigible is outclassed by the sturdy, swift and reliable plane? Doesn't it see that the United States is taking up something already discarded as a weapon by the wisest Europeans? We have had two of these big balloons, and both were hailed as marvels of science. They were nothing of the kind. They were merely bags of death. Now the Germans are about to build a third one for us. To make assurance doubly sure—for the undertaker—the House sees to it that there will be no helium. Morally and physically the Zeppelin is a thing of evil repute. Its only successes have been the devil's own—the bombing of peaceful towns and the killing of women and children. Why should a civilized nation use it at all?—New York Tribune.

Hid Money in Gun

French Peasant Chose Wrong Place for Secreting Notes

The ingenuity of French peasants in hiding money has surpassed itself in the case of a man near Lorient who received a 1,000 franc note and a 500 franc note in payment for produce. He hid them in the muzzles of his double barreled shotgun, believing that would be the last place thieves would search for money.

He made a mistake, however, in not taking his wife into the secret. A neighbor called at a late date, in the absence of the man of the house, and asked for the loan of the gun to get a hare.

The hare escaped and when the peasant came in that evening his wife remarked that the neighbor must be a very bad shot.

"Why?" the peasant asked.

"Because he used both charges of your gun on a hare without hitting it."

"My shotgun?" inquired the peasant with a gasp, at the same time making for the corner where the weapon hung.

The civil court of the Department of Morbihan will have to decide the delicate point of law whether the peasant is responsible for the loss of the 1,500 francs.

Paint Used By Ancients

Earliest Reference Traced Back to Seventh Century A.D.

Paint is not a modern invention; indeed, white lead is of ancient origin. The story is told of the wife of the famous Greek General Xenophen, who had the habit of smearing white lead on her face and wearing high heels until her husband told her he thought her pretty enough as she was without the application of artificial aids to beauty. There is a reference traced back as far as the Seventh Century, A.D., which is the first recorded instance of the use of paint to cover a wooden carriage, very much in the manner prevailing today. There are earlier historical mentions of the use of paint, but these refer more to sizes, such as glue, and special paints such as those made with wax and used by the Romans in admixture with glue to paint their ships of war. The Egyptians used glue sizes and varnishes. The mummy cases in museums indicate that clearly and probably form the earliest examples of varnished articles in existence.

Industrial Accidents in February

Industrial accidents in the province of Saskatchewan during the month of February numbered 56. Of these 30 were on the steam and electric railways, and 26 amongst other trades. There was one fatal accident during this month, and of the 55 men injured 24 have recovered, while the remaining 21, who are still unable to resume their occupations, will not suffer any permanent disablement.

Californian Prefers Ontario Peaches

Ontario peaches are better than California peaches according to Aaron Sapiro, co-operative expert of that State, who addressed a large audience of fruit growers at St. Catherines, Ont. Making Air Flying Easy

Airplane Can Soon be Managed Like Motor Car

The day is apparently at hand when the navigation of an airplane will require no more skill and self-reliance than does the driving of a motor car. A flight has recently been made from London to Paris and back, during which, for two consecutive hours, the pilot was enabled to depend entirely upon an automatic mechanical control for everything but the actual direction by means of the steering wheel.

More recently a French inventor has produced a mechanical pilot by means of which all control except the actual steering is done either automatically or by readily made adjustments. The device has attracted a great deal of attention in England, where elaborate tests are now being made at both government and private airdromes.

This machine is so arranged that the pilot can retain personal control of the ailerons and elevator, as well as of the engine plant and rudder, as long as he likes, and also has the means, whenever he desires, to turn over to the automatic systemthe control of the ailerons and elevator simultaneously, or of the ailerons alone—but not the elevator alone—and in addition he can cut out both automatic controls, and use indicators that are installed on the dashboard of the airplane cockpit as an index as regards horizontality.

It is more than a means of relieving the pilot from fatigue, for, when flying through clouds or fog he need no longer fear that he is "banking" unintentionally, while for landing, the control can be set so that the machine will descend at a predetermined angle, thus removing one of the dangers of night flying.

An Indispensable Gift

True Humorist Possesses Heritage Which is Valuable

The one who is endowed with the gift of humor should not undervalue the heritage. For there are few more useful accomplishments than the ability to make your associates laugh. There is a tonic power in a laugh. A smiling face invites good fortune.

If one has the gift of humor, he has no need to envy artists. If he can make the sorrowful forget their sorrows, if he can help the tired worker forget his weariness, if he can make this world a sunnier, more cheerful place by means of his gift that has been bestowed upon him it would be ingratitude for him to wish he had been differently endowed. The humorist who appreciates his art, and knows it at its true value, has a right to hold his head high, for he is bestowing on others an indispensable blessing.

An Austrian tourist traveling in the west of Ireland asked an old woman how far it was to the nearest town. She sadly looked at him, then sighed and said: "It was five nice miles two years ago, but some English brute came over with chains and mad it seven, and our hearts are broke walking it ever since, had luck to them!" And she disappeared into the house leaving him there.

Interest in Work Of Boards of Trade

North Wing Formed to Saskatchewan Associated Boards of Trade Body

The impetus which the annual meeting of the Saskatchewan Associated Boards of Trade has given to organization work in connection with trade boards in the province, is emphasized by F. J. James, who has received notification of the formation of a northern wing.

This wing is called the District Associated Boards of Trade for Northern Saskatchewan and to date the following towns and cities have been enrolled as member organizations: Prince Albert, Birch Hills, Kinistino, Melfort, Star City and Tisdale.

The object of the new association is to provide a more solid and more representative bloc for the northern part of the province in the larger organization of associated boards. Under the constitution adopted no town or city board may become a member without first joining the larger provincial body.

Big Immigration Plan

Will Sell Land to Settlers on Long Payments

An important meeting of the subcommittee of the cabinet on immigration was held recently which was also attended by Col. J. S. Dennis, W. G. Annable and C. E. Ussher, of the C.P.R.; Messrs. Hays and Melanson, of the Canadian National; and ex-Mayor Brown of Medicine, and F. D. L. Smith representing the Western Canada Colonization Society. It looks very much as though the latter's plan of selling land for immigrant holders on long term payments to prospective settlers in the U.S. and Britain would be endorsed and strongly supported by the Government and the railways. A special effort will be made to get tenant farmers in the United States. It is not thought that the Government will assist immigration by grants. The railway companies, however, will undoubtedly grant the old rates to settlers. It is probable that a big campaign will soon be launched to get the class already mentioned.

Strange Club Room

Seamen Use Steamer's Funnel When Nights Are Chilly

When sailors of the North Asiatic steamship Rampan find the night sea air too chilly they retire into the vessel's capacious funnel, light their pipes and warm themselves in the most unique clubroom afloat.

If the smokestack becomes overwarm they open a door in its side; if they desire their laundry dried they pack it into the draft tube and the scheme works like a charm.

The Rampan was converted from a steamer during the war into a motorship with 1,800 horsepower Diesel engines. The smokestack, however, was not disturbed, but instead fitted with floors on each deck and the top roofed over.

The ship has a steam donkey lifting engine whose smokestack passes up through the funnel, furnishing the warmth for the comfort of the lounging sailors.

Quality Not Quantity

The Particular Requirement in Hog Raising at the Present Time

Any whole sale return to hog raising regardless of quality is likely to result in disappointment and loss. The bacon business demands a hog of uniform type and that type to be the one recognized as producing the kind of bacon demanded by the British market from which Denmark threatens to oust us. Consequently, quality far more than quantity is needed. This involves right breeding to the bacon type coupled with correct feeding. Dealing with this aspect of the situation the Commissioner of Livestock for the Dominion in his annual report on market requirements pointedly says: "The condition of competition and the obvious value of quality as a factor in meeting competition would indicate that no marked increases in production should be contemplated during the present year. It will tax our energies to the full to properly deal with the matter of improved type and quality." Proceeding, the commissioner refers to the seemingly establishment inferiority of our bacon products compared with those of Denmark, our chief competing country, and to the fact that our exports are larger than they were before the war in spite of the notable decline last year, as providing that the only production that needs stimulation is that of a superior, and uniformly superior article. Nobody expects that volume will be a particularly important factor in meeting British requirements during 1922.

It will be remembered that a system of grading has been established and is soon to go into effect. This will enable packers to pay a premium for the class of hog they required, and thus induce confidence, and it is hoped, stability in the business.

Sees Germans Gaining Trade of the World

Are Underselling Other Nations Says Director of French Bureau

A warning that German business men are aiming the guns of commerce once more at the world was given by G. de la Jarrie, Director of the Bureau of French Colonial Information, in an address at the French Institute. After describing France's colonial possessions in Indo-China and among the islands of the Pacific, M. de la Jarrie continued:

"Not only France, Great Britain, perhaps Japan, are menaced by the hands of German trade, but the United States as well. Germany's intelligent and adroit salesmen are swarming once more over the whole world. They come in great numbers to these Pacific possessions, not at first to sell, but to study minutely and carefully the merchandise of other countries, the tastes and fashions of the inhabitants, taking back with them samples of every kind of goods and commodities. In six months they are back again, with the same wares to sell, but at prices much below the market quotations.

"These agents are ready to give any amount of credit, running from four and six months to a year. They are recapturing commerce. In one or two years we shall find that they have spread over the entire globe, to the detriment of the other nations."

"And what do I get?" asked the guilty thief.

"You get the eight days," replied the "beak."

Royalties on Furs in Saskatchewan

$20,000 represents the collection of royalties on furs taken by trappers in Saskatchewan. Royalties of this kind have never before been collected by Saskatchewan and it was at the last session of the Legislature that power was given to collect these tolls. It is expected that the new arrangement will net the province an additional $20,000 in revenue each year.

Vancouver to Have Rose Festival

From the first to the fourth of July next will be celebrated by Vancouver as a Rose Festival, to which the people from the States of California, Oregon and Washington, British Columbia's rivals in the production of gorgeous blooms, will be invited to be the special guests of the city.

An elephant rarely sleeps for more than five hours a day.

The Alexander Hamilton Institute of New York has published a lecture given by Mr. E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., entitled "The Springs of Business Activity," upon which the following has been culled:

"What should be the relation of the state to the individual in our modern civilization? Many philosophers have discussed the relations of state and individual in an ideal world. I am not a philosopher, but a business man, and my interest is in the immediate present.

"The world as we know it is at present war, not so much a war between nation and nation as a war of man against nature. The world is getting to be more populous, and its peoples must be clothed and fed. Incidentally, the nations into which mankind has grouped itself must draw upon each other in the desire to control for their own needs, new or old sources of merchandise and of production, but the dynamic spirit underlying human activities is the desire to preserve the human race.

"In this New World of North America, the struggle of man against nature is more obvious, perhaps, than in the Old World, where income sufficient for food, clothing and considerable comfort is considered by so many as their undisputed heritage. We, over here, live among pioneers and the sons of pioneers, who have homesteaded, cleared their own farms, prospected for and discovered mines, started business in a wilderness and seen the wilderness become a city. We realize, perhaps, more readily than the philosophers of the more complex Old World how much we owe to individual energy in this war against nature. The continent of North America has been civilized and adapted to the needs of man by the enterprise of sturdy individuals and not by state officials.

"With the struggle for existence disguised under the polite forms of settled and organized communities, it is still to men of vision and imagination that we owe our progress. The history of Canada and the United States is full of instances of men who have risen to commanding positions in the world of affairs by the force of personal ascendency. Mount Stephen, Carnegie and Edison are typical of the spirit of leadership which has made the civilization of our continent what it is. In all fields of business life we have much to the formidable energy of leaders, who, with a fair field and unhampered by tradition, have won their way to the front. In new countries the individual seems to have opportunities denied him in older nations.

"In the largest company or in the most complex corporation the driving power of the individual is the keynote of progress.

"There is, however, a danger of the human race in unrestricted individualism. 'Every man for himself' is not only a selfish policy; it may imperil the harmony, indeed, the safety, of the community. Man as a social animal has a duty, not only to himself, but also to his neighbors. The business man or business company in a complex community or state has a similar duty to the public. The work of that man or company is ultimately for the preservation and benefit of his community, and while that work is most energetically prosecuted, if done in the spirit of individual, it fails of its purpose if it is prosecuted to the detriment of the community or race as a whole.

On Monday afternoon of this week members of the Gordon Memorial ladies' Aid gave a farewell tea at the home of Mrs. M. Moffatt, in honor of Mrs. Kearney and Mrs. Willis, both of whom are leaving town. There was a large attendance and a pleasant social hour was spent.

Canada and Her Settlers

The Financial Post tak's Sir Philip Gibbs to task for certain statements regarding Canada and immigration in the following forceful, if perhaps unduly harsh, editorial comment:

"Immigration, as Canada's great need, is emphasized by Sir Philip Gibbs in an article in the New York Times. We are glad to have Sir Philip or any one else advertise the opportunities in Canada for the right kind of settlers. But when he declares that Canadians want the clientish government to organize and finance a great scheme of emigration from the old country,' and talks of the men who fought for the Empire being sent out to starve or freeze to death on the prairie, he shows a willingness to discuss a matter about which he has obviously secured—or has been given gratuitously—a great deal of dangerous information.

"It is unfortunate, indeed that globe-trotting journalists like Sir Philip Gibbs are willing to indulge in sentimental superficialities and unfortunate that they get a start in touch with people who are in a position to supply just such superficialities. There has never been any suggestion that we have heard of that the British government should organize or finance a Canadian immigration program. If such a suggestion was given to Sir Philip then it was either deliberate propaganda or the unfortunately loose observation of some one dangerously ignorant of what is in the country's interests.

"Canada's immigration schemes should be under the administration of Canadian officials—and those officials should be directed by a capable business executive with a practical knowledge of the task involved. Any scheme which is launched by another country can only be expected to fill Canada with a web of undesirables. We want people who will come prepared to win a home for themselves in a land of plenty, but a land where the rewards are to the industrious only. We do not want the people that other countries want to get rid of—people who will not want to work here any more than they did in Europe, and who will therefore become a charge on the country, and an element of discontent and disturbance."

The News From Genoa

According to one Genoa correspondent, Russia and Japan are about to "get together" in a deal that will insure German, Russ and Jap dictatorship in Europe for years to come. According to another news sleuth, the Russians and Japanese were never farther apart than at present, and Japan is about to establish closer relations with France, both seeing eye to eye on the sinister subject of the Soviet.

If certain journalists in Genoa are to be believed, the political cauldron is about to boil over and straw the world with millions of victims of another war, more terrible than the last. If certain other scribes are right, universal peace has been made permanent by the assemblage and discussion of the leaders of Europe headed by Lloyd George, who would sooner die than return to London without disarmament terms, signed and sealed, in his inside pocket. Every edition of the day carries a fresh viewpoint, and every expert guesses differently on the international situation.

CANADA WILL BEAT U.S. AS WHEAT GROWER

Senator Calder, of New York, in his recent speech in the senate in opposition to the St. Lawrence waterway project, presented an interesting picture of the possibilities of Canada as a wheat growing country. Senator Calder predicted the United States will soon fall behind Canada in the production of wheat. The Dominion, he declared, will develop several times the wheat acreage of the United States.

An advance guard of five hundred immigrants, all experienced farm labor, from Norway and Holland, are expected to arrive in the city toward the end of this month, said Arnold F. George, chief immigration officer of the Alberta district.
